

Chat log 8 Oct 2021

Investigate the Neighborhood to Advance Your Research by Melinda Henningfield

Audience Question:

Q: This neighborhood webinar will come in handy because I need to research all the various street addresses for the 11 children in one of my ancestor's family!

A: Wonderful!

Marian Pierre-Louis (to All - Entire Audience): 1:34 PM: Find all BCG Webinars here -

<https://familytreewebinars.com/bcg>

Audience Question:

Q: My 2nd great-grandmother (born in 1843) was listed as not being able to read and write on the 1850-1870 censuses, however, by the 1880 census that mark went away. According to a handwritten interview of a family member who knew her, she wanted to be able to read her Bible, so taught herself to read (most likely with the help of her younger children.) So, just because one census lists a person as illiterate, don't assume that they stayed that way.

A: Cool story!

Marian Pierre-Louis (to All - Entire Audience): 1:49 PM: Access to the syllabus is available at the bottom of your webinar control panel, or on the registration page at <https://familytreewebinars.com/bcg>.

Audience Question:

Q: is the handout the syllabus? if not can you put the syllabus line in the same area as the handouts in the chat then you don't have to keep answering the questions.. is there a syllabus?

A: The handout and the syllabus are the same thing.

Marian Pierre-Louis (to All - Entire Audience): 2:26 PM: Access to the syllabus/handout is available at the bottom of your webinar control panel, or on the registration page at

<https://familytreewebinars.com/bcg>.

Marian Pierre-Louis (to All - Entire Audience): 2:29 PM: NGSQ - (p. 6) A Family for Mary Jones Clark see handout

Audience Question:

Q: https://bcgcertification.org/wp-content/uploads/2020/06/Henningfield-NGSQ_107-1_Mar2019.pdf

A: thanks!