Audience Question:
Q: Wouldn't it be better to have all of your LFT photos in a folder, with a unique, but easily identifyable, name?   In that way, if you had to change computers, for example, it ought to be much easier for LFT to "link" them.

A: Yes, When moving pix to a another pc, it certainly simplifies this if your pictures are all in one directory.   See "Media Paths - Managing Media Path Locations" at http://support.legacyfamilytree.com/article/AA-00541
